Mom's Voice

Favorite character

I always had difficulties with my kid wouldn't having worn a helmet. Once I put her favorite character on it, however, she became willing to wear the helmet. You may want to try it.

Same as father

My husband started riding, and my kid says that he also wants the same one as his father. That's how he started wearing a helmet. You may want to try it.

Relieved that he was wearing it...

While I was looking away for a moment, the bike fell down onto the ground with my son on it. Fortunately, my son was wearing a helmet on that day and he was safe. Sometimes it was annoying to have him wear it and to be honest I let him not wear it once in a while. From that day on, however, I make him wear a helmet no matter what. Every time I think back on that day, it makes me shivered even now.

A simple ingenuity

My kid had been unwilling to wear a helmet since he had pinched his chin skin in the buckle. So I place my finger in between his chin and the buckle, making him relieved. Now he seems comfortable with it.
